

POWER LEADERS IN LAW & ACCOUNTING

Cities and regions may be defined by their activities, development or skylines. But it's often the behind-the-scenes players who help bring those attributes and defining structures to life.

This year's list of Power Leaders in Law & Accounting represent those professionals. Some have been practicing in South Florida for generations; some are relatively new arrivals. Thirteen were on this year's Top 100 Power Leaders list; 19 are new to this year's list.

But whether in law or accounting, the courtroom or the negotiating table or the executive boardroom where deals are made, these are the professionals whose skills and trusted counsel have helped define South Florida.
